

2 hrs per week / 3 credits

International and transnational fields of action – Challenges for social work practice / General part of the degree program

Ms Kathrin Ilg-Asiedu

In this course, challenges for social work practice will be discussed within the framework of international and transnational fields of action.

The course can be taken both by incoming students from partner universities and students of Esslingen university.

Examination

The graded examination consists of a talk.

The examination requirement is to independently collect, organise and present material on a specific theme. The presentations should demonstrate links to other themes discussed in the seminar. Students are also expected to facilitate the following discussion and deal with questions of content and critical contributions to the discussion.

The examination will be held during the semester.