

Orienting to the New Culture

Code and name of module:	Orienting to the New Culture (ONC)
ECTS credits:	2
Attribute:	Voluntary participation for international exchange students
Contact hours:	20
Self-study hours:	30
Language of instruction:	English
Module owner:	International Office
Last update:	27.04.2022

Target of the module:	Studying in a foreign country is a chance and challenge at the same time. The course aims to open an experiential time&space and methodology for participants to explore and develop their unique creative ideas to integrate their daily life challenges with new methods The course is offered in English.
Content*:	The course is designed to improve the capacities of students' creativity, communication, resilience and self-awareness competencies through implementing own creative methods and adapting to a personal challenges in the new hybrid culture transitions Intermodal Expressive Arts concept and models will be the ground of the workshops .You can choose and explore different tools to implement in your daily life and school challenges for finding new ideas to adapt moving forward from the challenges. Also, you would have photography projects, collage works, story telling,, painting techniques that help support the journey of each of you personally. You will collect all your works in a digital portfolio, which will be presented in the end of the course. The course has 3 workshops and 3 one to one coaching sessions online with a porfolio presentation as a closure.
Usability of the module:	For all international exchange students
Type of instruction:	Experiential Workshops and One on One Coaching Sessions
Literature:	A script, including the main facts, figures and theses regarding the main topics will be delivered by the teacher.
Assessment:	Portfolio presentation Attendance is mandatory and will be checked by the teacher.

*Content of lectures is subject to change